It stands to reason that whenever the democrats and the prohibitionists attempt to march in the same procession, they make a bad mess of it. Look at Maine, and Wisconsin is going to furnish another example of the folly of organizing such a procession.

From the Chicago Herald, democratic: "Gabe Bouck always wants a sure thing. Because he could not see it in the democratic situation in Wisconsin this fall, he refused to run for governor. From present indications, however, Gabriel has a dead sure thing on never getting another chance."

Chairman Manley, of the Maine republican central state committee, gives the following as the final result of the Maine election: "Official returns from every city, town and plantation in the state give Bodwell (rep) for governor 14,000 majority over Edwards (dem). Our plurality on congressmen is 17,000. The republicans elect 148 members of the legislature and the democrats 35. Special effort was made by the democrats to capture the legislature and defeat Senator Hale, but he will be renominated by acclamation and elected by the largest vote ever thrown in Maine for a United States senator. Our victory taking it all in all, is the greatest republican triumph ever achieved in Maine."

The Chicago Tribune: The third party cranks who are insisting on prohibition in Wisconsin ought to consider a few facts in regard to that state shown by the census of 1880. The native born white males over the age of 21 in Wisconsin numbered 149,463, and those of foreign birth over 21 years numbered 189,469. The foreigners if all naturalized would constitute a majority of about 40,000 voters in Wisconsin. What chance would there be for the adoption or enforcement of a prohibitory law in such a state? It is a waste of time to talk about prohibition in Wisconsin. Such agitation will only tend to make the state overwhelmingly democratic and open the way for free whisky. The prohibitionists of that state should hold fast to the laws they have now, and work toward higher license and local option. But they are more likely to imitate the wise dog that dropped the meat he had to grasp at the shadow in the water.

According to the Oshkosh correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, Colonel Gabe Bouck is in an unhappy frame of mind. He is mad at something, and declines to say what he is mad about, but promises that after the election and and when the democratic party is completely snowed under, he will give the papers some news. Mr. Bouck denied that he was scared out of the gubernatorial race. He said he didn't want to run and that was enough. Gabe still nurses his bitterness against Governor Rusk, and claims that he will be held responsible for the sacrifice of life at the Milwaukee riots. Gabe is now throwing some soft soap to the Schillingites but it is too late to be of any service to him. The correspondent also gives this interesting bit of news:

It has been reported that the cause of the colonel's withdrawal was his objection to the democratic platform. Before he went to Milwaukee, he had drawn up resolutions upon which he proposed to accept the nomination for governor. He was requested to have them struck off from a type writer and presented to the state central committee, but delayed doing so, and went to Milwaukee intending to give an outline of them to the leaders of the party. When he consulted with the managers, however, they handed him their platform and he immediately flew into a passion and declared he would not run upon such an outrageous code of resolutions; and, although the committee is reported to have labored with him, with his customary unreasonableness, he would not yield his opinions.

This is given for what it is worth, but the fact remains that Bouck was frightened off by the rush of hundreds of democrats to the support of Governor Rusk. Bouck could see nothing but defeat—a certain burial of the democratic ticket, and he therefore did the wiser thing—declined.

Two weeks ago the Monroe Sentinel charged that the democrats in the state had contributed money to the prohibition campaign. The prohibitionists denied the charge, whereupon the Sentinel says:

One of the leading democrats, in fact the leading democrat of Green county; one who was instrumental in ousting Mr. Lemmel from the Albany postoffice, spent some time and money in the campaign of 1884, assisting the prohibition camp meetings held by one Ellsworth and Carle, if he can be believed upon his word. Col. Ellsworth told us, while he was in the county working up prohibition, that he received more help from democrats than he did from prohibitionists. We have some other evidence. We refer you to the democratic state committee's books in Madison during the campaign of 1884, in which several hundred dollars was transferred from that committee to Mr. Olin's committee in the interest of Burr Jones. It is said that the third party paper was printed by the Madison Democrat office gratis. It costs money to print a newspaper. Our authority is a one armed soldier, whose name we will not give now, as it was a confidential matter, and was told us after the campaign. He happened to be at Mr. Richmond's headquarters when the result of the presidential election was hanging in the balance, a few days after the election, when a member of the democratic committee came in and heartily congratulated Mr. Richmond and other prohibition leaders upon the success of the Cleveland ticket—and general result —in a sort of "we killed the bear" style and spirit, which was evidently much enjoyed by the chairman and other prohibitionists present.

There is such a warm feeling between the democratic leaders in this state and the prohibitionists that there is every reason to believe that the latter receive aid from the democrats. Both have one common object in view—the defeat of the republican ticket. That is all. The prohibitionists do not hope to aid the temperance cause in this movement. Their chief object is to crush the republican party and put the democratic party in power. It is charged that the democrats hired St. John to stump Maine, and he has not denied the charge.

The Milwaukee Sentinel makes the following comment on the question of testing the labor vote:

It is proposed in Wisconsin to test the strength of the labor vote—or rather, to determine what proportion of workingmen will sustain a movement for the political organization of the workingmen. A ticket fairly representative of the political section of the workingmen has been nominated, and it may be expected to draw the support of all that portion of the Knights of Labor and other workingmen who believe in separate political action.

This test will determine the question whether the workingmen are to seek their ends in separate political action. The result is not a matter of much doubt. It is probable that only a comparatively few working men care to go into a party movement. The labor vote is likely to be light enough to discourage future labor nominations and to destroy the political pretensions of such agitators as Schilling. When the returns show that the democratic workingmen vote with their party and the republicans with theirs, and that no large support is given to the labor ticket, Schilling and his kind will be deposed.

The question as to what percentage of the Knights of Labor will vote for the labor ticket has been quite generally discussed, and in several cities the matter has received special attention, and the opinion prevails among the more observing and conservative Knights that but a small percentage of the members of the order will vote the Neenah ticket. So far as careful observation goes, the democratic Knights will vote the democratic ticket, as a rule, and the republican Knights the republican ticket. It is not believed that any considerable number of Knights, especially those that belong to the more intelligent classes, will be led into voting the sentiment of Bob Schilling and the Indian Doctor Powell. Very many of the Knights who are intelligent enough to read the demagogism between the lines of the democratic platform, and who are independent enough to act and think for themselves, will not vote to give encouragement to the Schilling crowd of anarchists. They will vote for Governor Rusk and thereby vote down all attempts to degrade labor.

Manning and the Austrian Mission.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 20.—The published report that Secretary Manning will probably be appointed to the Austrian mission occasions considerable talk here in political circles, and finds many believers. A local evening paper here publishes an interview with a gentleman who, it says, stands high in authority and who is familiar with the policy of the administration, in which he is reported as saying that Austria has a single silver standard; that there is no place in Europe where European finances can be watched with as much profit as in Vienna, and that Manning would be the best man to send to watch them. In that position he could have more influence on congress regarding silver than as head of the treasury department. The administration has not yet given up its policy of suspending silver coinage, and it is believed that observations on the Austrian system would be powerful arguments in favor of that policy.

Secretary Bayard says emphatically that he has no knowledge of any proposition to send Secretary Manning to Austria. Acting Secretary Fairchild has so far obtained all the information on the subject in his possession from the newspapers, and Treasurer Jordan and other treasury officials laugh at or ridicule the notion of increasing Secretary Manning's usefulness in solving the troublesome international silver problem, by taking from him the portfolio of secretary of the United States treasury and sending him to fill a second class mission in Austria. Belief in the report is considerably weakened.

May Glassmeier Be Happy.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—Frank Glassmeier was married on last Monday to Mrs. Barbara Pressman, who was recently accused of having conspired to have him killed on account of his unwelcome attention to her. Mr. Glassmeier from the first declined to believe the story, and states that he would not be foolish enough to marry a woman who had plotted to kill him.

The Bank Considers Itself Lucky.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 20.—William E. Gould, cashier of the First National bank, is a defaulter to an unknown extent, but the officers of the bank, after examination, state the amount will not exceed $87,000. The bank has $1,000,000 capital and $300,000 surplus, and will not be affected. Gould is under arrest.

Hung Himself by the Neck.

DECATUR, Ind., Sept. 20.—The body of Frank Hiskey, a prominent citizen, was found Saturday in one of the sheds on the fair grounds, suspended by the neck. He is supposed to have been despondent. He leaves a wife in good circumstances.

INDIGNANT SOCIALISTS.

POLICE INTERFERENCE ALMOST PRECIPITATES A RIOT IN GOTHAM,

And Incites the Distinguished Foreign Propagators of the System to Criticism of New York's Way of Running a Free Government—How the Officers Explain Their Conduct.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—There was a largely attended meeting in the large hall in Brommer's park, called in the interest of the Socialistic propaganda, which is being conducted by the German Socialist Liebknecht, the English reformer, Dr. Aveling, and Mrs. Aveling, daughter of Karl Marx, the famous author of "Das Kapital." The three persons named, and others, delivered addresses which were moderate in tone, and everything passed off quietly within the hall. As the audience passed out, there was some crowding and confusion, owing to a desire on the part of many of those present to get a good view of the distinguished foreigners, and to exchange greetings with them personally. There was quite a large force of police present, who had up to this time found no occasion for any action. The officer in charge, acting upon general instructions applicable in such cases, requested the people to move on and refrain from gathering in crowds around the passageways. The request not being promptly heeded, the policemen were ordered to move among the people and direct them to disperse.

The officers accordingly mingled in the crowd, and using their clubs as fenders, began to push the people back from around the speakers. A man in the crowd became excited and shouted out in German a malediction upon the police. This was interpreted by a German policeman to the officer in charge, who thereupon ordered the arrest of the offender. The arrest heightened the confusion, and the crowd becoming angry showed less disposition to yield to the efforts of the officers to disperse them. Shouts of indignation were heard on all sides, and Dr. Aveling and Herr Liebknecht personally requested the officer in charge to withdraw his men, as there had been no attempt at disorder, and no excuse for police interference. The sergeant refused to comply, and said that his original interference was for the purpose of protecting the speakers. The latter disclaimed any need of such protection, and said all they asked was to be left alone with their friends. In the surging of the crowd and the police around the speakers, Mrs. Aveling was pushed about with the rest rather rudely, and her husband claims that she was struck in the breast by a policeman's club. Half a dozen members of the crowd were taken into custody by the police before things quieted down, but the German who had expressed an favorable opinion of the police was the only one who was held and taken to the station-house. His name is William Guss and he lives at 40 Allen street. He was locked up for the night.

Dr. and Mrs. Aveling and Herr Liebknecht were quite indignant over the affair and they united in preparing the following note for the United Press:

We have just had a perfectly orderly meeting in Brommers park—a meeting that the police did their best to make disorderly. The addresses given in the hall were listened to in perfect order by an immense audience. The speeches over, we passed out into the open air, followed not unnaturally by a considerable number of people, who were led by the desire to speak with the orators whom many of these present knew personally. The police pushed and struck the people, including two of the undersigned. Nothing but the greatest forbearance on the part of the thousands present prevented an outbreak. We have never seen in Europe such wanton interference with the liberty of the subject as we saw in a country proverbially known as "the land of the free."

WILHELM LIEBKNECHT,
ELEANOR MARX AVELING,
EDWARD AVELING.

It is estimated that there were 10,000 people in the park during the afternoon. They were mostly Germans, and women and children were as numerous as men. If any Anarchists were present they found themselves in such a small minority that they ventured upon no demonstration and no red flags or other symbols were displayed. The police claim that the reason such a large force of officers were present was that information had come to headquarters that an attempt would be made by a few reds to turn the occasion into an Anarchist demonstration in spite of the wishes of the moderate leaders.

It was for this reason that the officer in charge insisted on preventing any gathering outside the hall, and also to protect Dr. Aveling and his friends from any unexpected trouble.

Apart for All Time to Come.

BATIMORE, Sept. 20.—A deed of separation on the part of Alphonsus L. Jenkins and his wife, nee Miss Katie McShane, daughter of Henry McShane, the noted bell founder, was filed in court Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins agree to live apart from each other, fully and freely, for all time to come. There is full release on both sides of any property either may possess. Henry McShane, the woman's father, agrees to protect, educate and support their four children. This action, it is said, is to avoid the disgrace of a divorce suit which Mrs. Jenkins had filed, and which is dismissed by her, at her cost.

That San Francisco Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—A preliminary statement of the assets and liabilities of J. Baum & Co., the wholesale clothiers who failed Friday, shows their liabilities to be $738,000, of which $538,000 are local and the remainder in New York. Assets are placed at $685,000. It is not expected that individual losses by reason of the firm's failure will be heavy. The cause of the suspension is thought to be the shrinkage of the value of Vulcan powder stock, in which the firm was heavily interested.

To Examine the Fisheries Trouble.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 20.—The senate committee to investigate the fisheries question expect to leave for Canada on the 28th inst., and thoroughly examine the sources and status of the existing troubles between the United States and Canada. They hope to report at the opening of congress. The members are Messrs. Edmunds, Frye, Salisbury, Morgan, and George.

A Banquet to Governor Fairchild.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 20.—Ex-Governor Fairchild, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was tendered a banquet at the Arlington hotel Saturday by his comrades in this city. Speeches were made by ex-Commander-in-Chief Burdett, Mr. Fairchild and others. It was well attended, and a grand success.

Fire at Sandusky, Ohio.

SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 20.—A fire broke out about 3:30 Saturday morning in Link's hall and wine cellars, and extended to Hansen's drug store and Gehri Bros., grocery, gutting all of them, besides destroying a large quantity of wine stored in casks in the cellar. Total loss, $20,000, mostly insured.

How They Treat Insane in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A patient at the Flatbush Insane asylum was scalded to death in a bath by one of the employes Sunday. The employe was arrested.

Why suffer with a bad cold when one bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure a cough of the worst kind. Dr Bull's Cough Syrup is sold for 25 cents per bottle by all druggists in the United States.

Superintendent District No. 2.

CORRECTED CALL.

The second superintendent convention will be held at the court house in the city of Janesville, on Thursday, the 30th day of September, A. D., 1886, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of superintendent. By order of committee.

AN AMERICAN QUEEN,

PROVIDED JOHN BULL DON'T GO IN FOR A REPUBLIC,

And Provided, Also, That the Story Is Not a Beautiful Reportorial Romance —Jennie Chamberlain to Wed the British Heir Presumptive—But Her Father Doesn't Know It.

PITTSBURG, Pen., Sept. 20.—The Pittsburg Leader investigated Saturday a report published on the strength of a New York special last Saturday, to the effect that the prince of Wales and his consort had decided that their son, Prince Albert Victor, the heir presumptive to the English throne, should marry an American wife. The reasons given for this decision were the opposition of the English populace to any more German alliances, the paucity of reigning protestant families in Europe, and the bitter opposition to Roman Catholics being connected with the English government. In addition to this it was also stated that the marital union of England and America was some time since suggested by Lord Beaconsfield.

There was a mystery, however, in connection with the identity of the American lady said to have been selected as the prince's bride; but a Pittsburg gentleman who has just returned from New York city is authority for the information that the lady in the case is Miss Jennie Chamberlain, of Cleveland, who created such a sensation on both continents, and he says that while in New York the report was privately circulated in the highest social circles that she and Albert Victor became engaged while she was in Europe last winter. A Leader reporter, who was sent to Cleveland to investigate, telegraphs that the same rumor prevails among society people in that city; that Miss Chamberlain is now in Scotland, and that in an interview with the lady's father, that gentleman disclaimed any knowledge of the betrothal.

RACE RIOT AT PITTSBURG.

Irish and Italians at Dagger's Point—Two Men Killed.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 20.—Race hatred was the cause of a riot about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon between a number of Italian and Irish residents of the Fourteenth ward, this city. The quarrel resulted in the shooting of Patrick Constantine and the fatal injury of "Paddy" Rocco, an Italian whose skull was crushed in with an ax. The riot was the sequel to an attack made on Joseph Vernard on Saturday evening. Vernard had incurred the wrath of his neighbors on account of his marriage to an Irish woman. On his road home he was held up against a building and terribly beaten. Vernard claimed to have recognized among his assailants Mike, John and Pat Daly. The victim dragged himself home more dead than alive.

Sunday afternoon a gang headed by the Dalys demanded admission to Vernard's house. On being refused admittance the doors were burst open. Then followed a scene of riot and confusion. The frightened Italians were driven in every direction by the intruders, who numbered about twenty. "Paddy" Rocco finally turned on his pursuer, Mike Daly fighting him savagely, when one of the gang struck Rocco on the head with an ax. His skull was laid open, exposing the brain. His injuries are pronounced fatal. The prostrate form of Rocco covered with blood frightened the rioters who fled. A shot was fired into the fleeing mob and Patrick Constantine fell, the ball of a large calibre revolver having entered his back, passing nearly through his body, from the effects of which he died at 9 o'clock Sunday night. It is not known who fired the shot. The police have five Italians under arrest and are now searching for the rest of the mob.

Knights Templar at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—The opening services of the twenty-third triennial conclave of the Knights Templar were held in the music hall of the exposition building at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, and were entirely of a religious character, conducted strictly in accordance with the ritual of the order. The services were public and drew a large crowd to the hall. Templars are arriving in train loads, whilst the rush of the accompanying crowds of people is enormous. The city wears a holiday appearance in honor of the visitors. The legend "welcome" flutters from thousands of windows, whilst in all the more prominent hotels and public places the most elaborate decorations appear. The streets are illuminated and everywhere a happy sea of people surges good naturedly from one point of interest to the next. The convention proper of the knights will be at the music hall of the exposition building. Tuesday will be given up to the templars parade in which 20,000 knights are expected to participate.

Couldn't Suppress the Reporters.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—Mr. Meagher has failed in his attempt to exclude reporters from the court room during the trial of the case of the seized schooner Adams. The newspaper men were in their places Saturday represented by counsel. There was a wrangle between the lawyers, but the reporters gained the day. Mr. Meagher says he will apply to the chief justice for an order preventing the testimony being reported.

An Interesting Trio Coming to See Us.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Violet Cameron and her company, together with the Daly and Thalia Theatre companies, of New York, sailed for America on the Aurania Saturday. It is said that Violet Cameron's husband, Mr. de Bensaude, sailed on the same day on the steamer Alaska. Lord Lonsdale will probably sail on the City of Rome a few days later.

Got Home Loaded with Libel Suits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Envoy Sedgwick left New York for Washington Sunday night to submit his report on the Cutting affair to Secretary Bayard. He refused to be interviewed, but allowed certain expressions to escape him which justify the belief that libel suits will be remarkably plentiful this fall.

Made Three Hundred Men Idle.

PITTSBURG, Pen., Sept. 20.—At a late hour Saturday night a fire believed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed the engine-house, together with contents, belonging to the Keeling & Co. coal works on the South Side, this city. Loss, $12,000; partially insured. 300 men employed in the mine are thrown out of employment.

Flour Mill Burned.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 20.—The Hunt flour mills, owned by the Second National bank, burned at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The supposed origin of the fire was spontaneous combustion. Loss, $7,000; insurance, $4,500. This was one of the oldest mills in the state, having been built in 1824.

Killed on the Race Track.

WABASH, Ind., Sept. 20.—During a running race at the Wabash county fair Saturday, a mare owned by Seadock Leavagood flew the track and run over and dangerously injured a lad named Forney. The rider, Benjamin Gray, was thrown, and sustained internal injuries of a very serious nature.

Hay Fever

Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me by my druggist as a preventive to hay fever. Have been using it as directed and have found it a specific for that much dreaded and loathsome disease. For ten years or more I have been a great sufferer each year, from August 9th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies for its cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventive I have ever found. Hay fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Publishers, Indianapolis, Ind.

THE CABLE FROM BELFAST

Has Its Usual Report of Riot and Such Things.

BELFAST, Sept. 20.—There was desperate rioting in Divis street Sunday afternoon, growing out of the arrest by the police of two drunken men who were fighting in the middle of the road. The mob quickly increased in size, and, gathering around the police, threatened to rescue the prisoners and inflict injury upon their captors. The police kept the mob at bay, and with considerable difficulty conveyed their prisoners to the barracks, where they were locked up. No sooner had the prisoners disappeared within the barracks and the doors closed behind them, than the rioters made a desperate attack upon the building, tearing down the shutters, smashing the windows and battering the doors with bricks and paving-stones.

Only four constables were on duty in the barracks at the time, but these made a stout defense of their position, and within an incredibly short space of time fired eleven rounds of buckshot into the crowd. One of the rioters was killed outright and several were badly wounded. It is reported that a woman in the crowd was fatally shot and has since died in her own house, whither she was carried. An alarm was sent out, and reinforcements arrived just as the mob was about to make a second attack on the barracks. The reinforcing party scattered the rioters, but they reassembled in small groups later.

The priests in the various Catholic parishes in the town were active in their efforts to persuade the rioters to retire to their homes. The police and military are now patrolling the streets and no renewal is apprehended.

More of the Same in Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 20.—A riot occurred here Sunday, between a body of Orangemen and a crowd of Nationalists, but the disturbance was quickly suppressed by the police and nobody was seriously hurt.

Subsequently another disturbance took place at Foxteth park, growing out of inflammatory speeches delivered at a Socialist meeting at that place, but this too was quelled by the police, though with much difficulty. Many heads were broken, but all of the injured were able to leave the scene on foot.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Justice Waite Can See No Chance for Them in the U. S. Court.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Sept. 20.—Among the guests in the Antlers hotel Saturday were Chief Justice White and daughter, and the Seligman family of New York. A reporter asked Judge White if there was any way by which the convicted Anarchists in Chicago could get their case before the United States court, and explained to him that they anticipate a refusal of their petition for a new trial in the court of Illinois. The Judge said: "I see no way by which they can enter the United States court unless on a question of federal law and a showing that in some way their constitutional rights have been violated. The fact that they are foreigners and not citizens of the United States would have no hearing whatever. There are charges, as I understand it, of an offense against the law of the state of Illinois and under that law they have been convicted by a jury. No, I can see in that view of the case no way for them to get before the United States court."

The judge is on his way home from a long and interesting trip for rest and recreation. He has been holding court in Charleston, S. C., whence he went to San Francisco and back to Salt Lake and Colorado Springs.

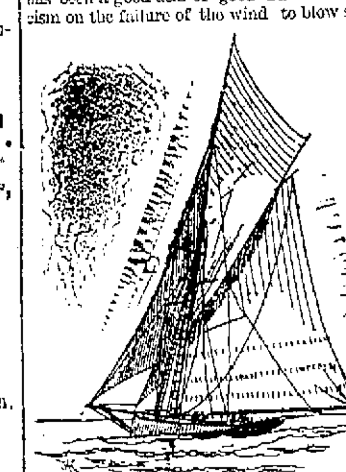
WASHED ASHORE.

THAT'S THE WAY THE NEWPORT YACHT RACE ENDED.

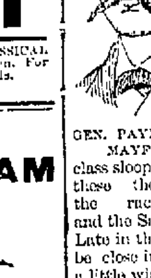
Trying to Run a Race in Almost a Dead Calm—The Mayflower Wins, However —Sullivan and Hearld Have Their Fun Stopped by the Police—General Sporting News.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 20.—The yacht race here Saturday was the most unsatisfactory and disappointing affair of the kind ever known, probably, in American waters. There has been a good deal of good humored criticism on the failure of the wind to blow sufficiently at New York to give the yachts a chance to show what sort of sea boats they were, and of thanks to providence that up in these waters enough wind could be commanded to send the craft along in gallant style. But Saturday, metaphorically speaking, took the wind out of Yankee sails; for commencing with a good breeze—almost half a gale—before the first buoy was reached a dead calm prevailed, and half a dozen fouls were occasioned in turning the buoy, because the yachts actually drifted into each other's way; and after passing the buoy they drifted home, that entertaining process being semi-occasionally relieved by a little puff of wind that was gone before the sails had felt its influence.



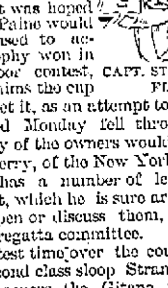
THE PURITAN.

The course was from Brenton's reef lightship to and around the buoy at the north end of Block Island; thence to a point off the West island light-house; thence back to the reef—about 45 miles. The boats started about 10:30, the Puritan getting off first, followed closely by the Gatatea, and the Mayflower was ten minutes behind the latter. The boats in the race were the big sloops Puritan, Mayflower and Galatea; the schooners Gitana, Montauk, Sachem and Miranda; the second-class sloops Bedouin, Stranger and Thetis; and the third-class sloops Cinderella, Clara and Bertie. Of these the Puritan dropped out of the race after passing the buoy, and the Sachem and Bertie were not timed. Late in the afternoon the Galatea was seen to be close in shore, and getting the benefit of a little wind, forged ahead of all the others, and at dark she appeared so far ahead that the "race" was conceded to her. At dark all the boats that could get home went home, and left the yachts to get in when they could, and nothing was really known of the result of the race until Sunday. Consequently a report was sent out announcing the Galatea as winner.



GEN. PAYNE, OWNER MAYFLOWER.

The public having settled its mind to this conviction, great was the disgust Sunday when it was found that, after all, the Mayflower had been "washed ashore" first, a disgust that was hardly tempored by proper feelings of patriotism that the American boat was the victor—so inglorious was the triumph. This feeling was not decreased by the fact that all day Sunday a roaring breeze blew steadily as if in mockery of the participators in Saturday's drifting match. It was hoped that Gen. Paine would have refused to accept a trophy won in such a poor contest, but he claims the cup and will get it, as an attempt to have another race sailed Monday fell through, because hardly any of the owners would enter. Commodore Gerry, of the New York Yacht club, says he has a number of letters from the yacht fleet, which he is sure are protests, but will not open or discuss them, as they must go to the regatta committee.



CAPT. STONE OF MAYFLOWER.

The fastest time over the course was made by the second class sloop Stranger—10:22:19; of the schooners the Gitana was winner in 11:22:10; the third-class sloop Cinderella got through in 11:16:36, while the Mayflower was 12:12:41 going over and the Galatea 12:22:34. The Mayflower, however, was handicapped for a slow start and her official time is 12:17:00. The little cutter Clara, which is by odds the fastest of the small sloops was timed at 12:19:40. The winners in the respective classes are the Mayflower, Gitana and Stranger.

LATER.—Another report says the race has not yet been decided and can not be until the regatta committee meets. It is asserted that the Mayflower was only a length ahead of the Galatea at the finish, which was about midnight.

Yacht Race at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—A successful yacht race took place over a triangler course of eighteen miles off this city Saturday. There was a splendid breeze from the southeast and the sight from the shore was a beautiful one, as the white-sailed flyers sped over the course. There were three classes on the programme, but in the second classes only the Verve came to time and this race was declared off. In the third class the sloop Zephyr came in eight minutes ahead of the Worthless, but having to allow the latter twenty minutes, lost the prize. The third class was a special class and sailed on a special course, the H. B. Cook winning the prize, the Ed. Rosing second.

THE FIGHT WAS A FIZZLE.

But as Long as It Lasted, It was Hot—Sullivan Wins.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 20.—3,000 persons paid $2 Saturday evening for admission to the Coliseum in Allegheny City, to witness the great glove contest between John L. Sullivan and Frank Hearld, long talked of in sporting circles. Among the audience were many known to fame in pugilistic circles throughout the country, and representatives of every trade, from the short-haired man to the merchant.

It was nearly 10 o'clock before the fight of the evening was called, and the time prior to this was used up in sparring contests between local men. A little before 10 o'clock the two puglists made their appearance and the champion was greeted with vociferous applause, while Hearld received feeble cheers. At 10 p. m. time was called and the fight began. Hearld backed clean around the ring while Sullivan followed and seemed anxious to get at his adversary. After a few feints Sullivan made a tremendous lunge forward. His right arm shot out and it collided with Hearld just above the belt, and Hearld almost doubled up and went back to the ropes. In a moment Sullivan was on him and delivered some short-arm blows. Heard struck out savagely and countered once or twice. He then clinched. "Break!" shouted the referee and the men obeyed. They squared away again in the center of the ring. Hearld this time kept out of the big man's reach and time was called before they got together again. Hearld seemingly had the worst of what fighting there had been.

Time was called for the second round. Hearld took his time in getting to the front. Before a half minute had elapsed, Sullivan had got close to him and some terrific short-arm fighting followed. Hearld suddenly fell on his back, but it did not seem to be a clean knock-down. He had scarcely arisen when Sullivan sprang on him like a tiger. A few quick strokes and then his big fist caught Hearld on the chin and the redheaded phenomenon went down on his back like a log. It was a clean knock-down. Hearld seemed dazed and lay there a moment. Just then Ed Mullahan ran up and lifted his man to his feet. Cries of foul were heard, and in a moment the stage was a scene of confusion. "Fight it out!" yelled Referee Newell. Sullivan walked quickly to Hearld's corner and attacked him. Hearld clinched with him and the two struggled together with might and main, both vainly endeavoring to strike a blow.

At this point Chief of Police Murphy and several policemen sprang on the stage, pulled the men apart and stopped the fight. The referee gave the honors to Sullivan, Hearld making a protest.

When the confusion had subsided somewhat, Sullivan stood up and said: "Gentlemen, I ask your kind attention, as I want to make a few remarks. Probably this fight was not settled satisfactorily to Mr. Hearld and his backer, but Hearld, for all I think more of him than I did, he had no chance to defeat a man of my caliber. I think I can best him and am ready to defend the title of champion at any time. I wish to thank the newspapers for their kind treatment. There is one paper, The New York Telegram, which has abused me without cause, and I think I have shown the writer that I am a better man than Hearld. Good-night."

Sullivan did not receive a scratch. Hearld's nose was slightly cut.

A TASTE OF THE CYCLONE

Given to Joliet, Ills.—Some Remarkable Freaks—Loss, $75,000.

JOLIET, Ills., Sept. 20.—About 8:30 Saturday evening a terrific wind storm and cyclone struck this city from a southwestorly direction. A dozen frame buildings on South Chicago street were leveled to the ground, and the street filled with boards, parts of roofs and unprooted trees. When the storm came up John Buckley took refuge in his cellar, while his family fled to the streets. The latter escaped injury but Buckley was dug out of the ruins of his house badly injured. Peter Daley and his wife were rescued from the ruins of their house slightly hurt. The large grain elevator and office buildings of H. S. Carpenter on Eastern Avenue, were totally demolished. Several small frame buildings alongside the Chicago & Alton railroad track were blown down. Most of the street lamps were demolished, leaving the city in darkness.

The scene of the cyclone was visited Sunday by thousands of people. It is a remarkable fact that although fifteen or twenty houses were completely demolished and scattered by the terrific wind, yet not a single person was fatally hurt. Everybody seemed to be aware of the approach of the cyclone some minutes before it struck the city, and secured their safety by fleeing to their cellars. The cyclone came from the southwest, straight up the Desplaines river. The constant flashes of lightning lit up the sky so that the funnel-shaped monster could be plainly seen as it came whirling toward the city with a roar like a hundred locomotives blowing off steam. As it reached the city limits it turned east on Monroe street, demolishing houses, barns and outhouses. The air was filled with boards, limbs of trees, sections of roofs and pieces of heavy timber.

The bridge on Monroe street was picked up bodily, and was deposited almost intact two blocks away. The residence of the Schlim brothers, John Day, Hod Brown, Jerry Buckley, Patrick Daly, Peter Daly, William Barrets, John Moher, and William Hines were scattered to the winds. Pieces of these houses were carried a quarter of a mile. A large number of houses were more or less moved from their foundations and wrenched out of shape. The house of Peter Daly, on Chicago street, was turned upside down. The roof now rests on the ground and the front door is high up in the air. Telegraph poles were twisted off like pipe-stems, the streets being blocked with a mass of tangled wires. Along Fourth avenue great holes were scooped out of the hard gravel road. Eye witnesses state that these holes were made by balls of electricity or fire, which bounded along the ground.

The horse and buggy of Deputy Sheriff Ward was hitched in front of his house when the cyclone came, and after it had passed, the horse and buggy had disappeared. No trace has yet been found. The damage to the property in the city is estimated at $75,000.

The Roman Catholic Bishop Appeals.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—An appeal from the right reverend bishop of Charleston was read from the pulpit of the Catholic churches in New York Sunday. Bishop Northrup says there is not a building in the city uninjured, and few not seriously damaged. All the churches have been seriously damaged. Many of the church institutions will need extensive repairs, and some of them are totally destroyed. The episcopal residence is irreparably injured. The bishop says: "We are utterly helpless to repair or rebuild, while the people whose property has been destroyed are asking bread. With the memory of our many previous trials, and in the midst of the ruins of this the most terrible of all, we beg you in the name of our Lord and for charity's sake to come to our relief."

Severe Storm at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 20.—A very severe storm swept Buffalo and vicinity Saturday night and Sunday, at times swelling into a hurricane and varied with drenching rain. The wind attained a velocity of forty-four miles per hour, and proved itself the most savage that has visited this region in some time. The effect on Lake Erie was tremendous; the waves rolled high and the water fairly leaped over the breakwater. Seven vessels were driven back to port by stress of weather. Two were badly damaged.

Deadly Diphtheria at Logansport, Ind.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 20.—Diphtheria has been prevailing to an alarming extent in this city recently. Sunday the board of health met and served notice on the school board that they deemed it unwise to open school. The school board has not yet acted, but if school opens hundreds of pupils will be kept at home. The matter is being examined into by the state board of health.

Another Alarming Shock at Summerville.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 20.—Reliable advices from Summerville are of an alarming nature. The shock of the morning of the 17th was more severe than supposed. Brown's hotel, a large wooden structure, was lifted and moved on its pillars several inches further to the north. The hotel is sixty-two feet long and forty-two feet wide. The shock also threw down several additional chimneys.

Bruin Shows His Teeth Again.

SOFIA, Sept. 20.—Owing to the demand of the Sobranje for the punishment of the authors of the conspiracy which resulted in the dethronement of Prince Alexander, the Russian agent here has officially informed the government that he will suspend Russian diplomatic relations with Bulgaria in the event of the government yielding to the demand.

M. Stambuloff, in an interview Sunday, said that whoever might be elected to succeed Alexander as prince of Bulgaria, would surely be overthrown if he attempted to Russianize the people or abolish the constitution.

Drowned Herself in the Reservoir.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, aged 88 years, widow of Major Hall who served on Gen. Scott's staff during the Mexican war, committed suicide Sunday morning by drowning herself in the Central park reservoir. Mrs. Hall was in good circumstances. She resided with her daughter at 224 east Eighty-sixth street, and has for many years drawn a pension of $80 per month. It is believed that she was temporarily insane when she committed the act.

Unknown Steamer Wrecked.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 20.—The strait of Bell Isle has lately been the scene of a great disaster. The coast is lined with wreckage, spars, life-preservers, etc. The wreck must have been complete. The name of the steamer is unknown. The absence of dead bodies implies that the crew and passengers took to the boats.

Died After Two Months' Unconsciousness.

BOUND BROOK, N. J., Sept. 20.—R H. Caryelle, a lineman superintendent of the Lehigh Valley railroad, who fell from the top of a telegraph pole forty feet high seven months ago, and who lay unconscious for over two months, died Saturday morning at his home. He leaves a wife and five children.

The Kaiser Is Well Again.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The Emperor William has entirely recovered from his recent illness.

Prompt Reform of Bodily Evils.

The prompt reform of those bodily evils, enfeebled digestion, incomplete assimilation, inactivity of the liver, kidneys and bladder as well as of the nervous symptoms which these ailments are especially prone to beget, is always accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine accredited by physicians, pronounced pure by analysis, and wholesome and agreeable. Surely such a restorative is preferable to unpalatable and indigestible mineral drugs and unsanctioned nostroms. The nation at large assuredly thinks so, judging by the unprecedented demand for the article from Maine to the Pacific, a demand now supplemented by immense orders for it received from tropical America, Mexico, the British and Spanish Colonial possessions, and elsewhere. Both at home and abroad it is recognized as a standard remedy and Preventive, the decisiveness of its effects recommending it everywhere.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. Prentice & Evenson, opposite O P O.

KENTUCKY'S WEATHER PROPHET.

Goose Bone Predictions—One Mode of Forecasting the Weather.

The goose bone may be called "Kentucky's weather prophet." In many farmhouses it will be found hanging in the hall, and old men who have had had it for years say the genuine bones never fail. The real bone can only be obtained from a goose that was hatched out in the spring; the month of May is said to be the best. The goose must not be killed until Indian summer has passed away. After cooking, remove the breast bone, scrape it clean, and then wash it in warm water and let it dry for a day or two. When it has been thus prepared, hold it up to the sun, or in front of a lamp in a dark room is better, and discolorations can be easily deciphered, and, to one who knows the bone reading is as plain as a book.

A bone shown to a reporter was taken from a goose hatched out in May. A row of dots found along the keel of the bone indicates the temperature and the darker their discolorations the more rain or snow there will be. The marks dividing the bone indicate the three winter months, December commencing at the front. A careful reading of the bone indicates much more regular weather than was had last year, and not so severe. There will not be many days during which running water will freeze. The coldest weather will occur during the first half of January and along between the seventh and twelfth there will be severer days of freezing. It will be the severest part of the whole season. Near the point of the bone discoloration is a little heavy, thus showing that the first days of winter will give proof of the season's change. This will be followed by rising temperature and falling weather for Christmas.

January will be ushered in cold and the cold will strengthen as the days lengthen, the coldest days of winter falling falling about the 8th of the month. This severe weather will be brief, followed by rising temperature and heavy thaws, and the last half of the month will see many rains and snows. During February there will not be any very cold weather, but it will be a rather disagreeable month, with snow and rain. A few cold days is all that the month will contribute to the winter. An early and decided thaw is among the promises of the bone. The February thaw will overflow the mountain streams and disastrous floods may be looked for. Altogether, the winter will be what is known as an open season and a good wheat year.—Christian at Work.

A Modern Demosthenes.

Hugh Swinton Legare, of South Carolina, was a good specimen of a cultivated orator. Originally his voice had been harsh and weak, while a defective shape and ill-proportioned arms (one of which had been stiffened with smallpox in his youth) seemed to render it impossible for him ever to attain a graceful or an expressive gesticulation. Yet, by a self-training to which the famous one of Demosthenes was almost nothing, he vanquished these formidable disadvantages. By the practice of everything that could strengthen his utterance, give him the command of its modulations and improve his whole enunciation, he absolutely created himself a voice the most powerful and one of the most perfect I had ever heard. It became clear, musical, delicate and true in its most minutest intonations, while, in its more vehement bursts of sound, it grew capable of filling the largest hall with thundering tones, to which we have often felt the walls of a legislature ring and vibrate.

He overcame, in like manner, or contrived to hide, his bodily defects, so as to attain a command of gesture quite sufficient to second the beautiful recitative of his voice and the play of features unusually striking—a noble and commanding countenance, full of intellect and passion, and fit to mirror all that the glow of his eloquence could express. Mr. Legare was United States charge des affaires at Brussels from 1832 until 1836, and was one of the most popular diplomatic representatives our country has ever had at that refined court. Appointed attorney general by John Tyler, he accompanied him when we went to Boston to attend a celebration of the Battle of Bunker Hill, and was taken ill, dying there on the 23d of June, 1843.—Ben: Perley Poore.

Bayard Taylor's European Tour.

I like the man who roughs it as Bayard Taylor did. In the old volume before me, published in 1848, he tells how four years before he started for Europe on what might be called the apostolic plan. He had no money and he earned his living as he went along. His staff was his comrade. He spent two years traveling in Europe and it cost him $500, which money he earned by writing for The United States Gazette and The Saturday Evening Post. He lived to be American minister to the German court, and in Germany he died.

As he traveled to his honorable post in all the luxury a modern ocean steamship affords, I wonder if he thought of the time when he first crossed in the steerage of the Oxford, a Liverpool packet, at a cost of $24, with the proviso that he should furnish his own food and bedding. The passage occupied twenty-eight days. Young Taylor traveled three weeks in Ireland and Scotland at a cost of $25. London cost him three shillings a day. At Frankfort he spent seven months, and each month cost him but $10. Four months in Florence cost him $50. Paris cost him only $3 a week. Few of us can "do" the gay city for that.—Cor. Detroit Free Press.

GEMS AND IMITATIONS.

LONDON THE MARKET FOR THE SALE OF ROUGH DIAMONDS.

Sham Stones Manufactured Principally in Paris—False Diamonds and Patent Imitation Pearls—The Opal and Ill-Luck—The Moonstone—Tiger Eye.

"Yes, I can tell you a good deal that you would like to know about precious stones," said a Nassau street dealer, a few days ago. "To begin with diamonds, these are almost all found at the Cape diamond fields nowadays, in South Africa, though some, and a better grade, are still obtained from Brazil—'old mine' diamonds, as they are called. All, or nearly all, are taken to London, which is the one great general market for rough diamonds. There are dealers in various parts of that city, but the center of the trade there is Hatton garden, near Ludgate hill. From thence a great many are taken to Amsterdam to be cut; others are cut in Antwerp or in Paris, and they have lately begun to cut them extensively in Germany. From these places they are sold and shipped all over the world.

"Sham diamonds are manufactured principally in Paris. Some very fine ones, that by all but experts would be taken to be real, are manufactured there. The smaller the stone the more easy is the imitation. It is very seldom the sham diamonds are sold for true ones, as even pawnbrokers, who are not usually considered very scrupulous, do not care to run the risk. But regular swindlers go about who carry two or three in their pockets, and by various representations frequently induce easily-duped persons to purchase under the impression that they are making a wonderful bargain. People who lose a real stone from a cluster in a ring or other piece of jewelry will frequently have it replaced with a sham stone.

MAKING FALSE DIAMONDS.

"There is only one way of making false diamonds. A piece of crystal, or of the very clear kind of glass known as paste, is cut to resemble a diamond by experienced workmen and very finely finished off. By this means the requisite amount of brilliancy is obtained. The principal points to be observed are the polish and the due regularity of the facets. There is a very large trade in sham diamonds doing this year. I have sold many more than ever before, and everyone else in the trade says the same. People are so fascinated with diamonds now that they won't look at a piece of jewelry that hasn't one in it, either real or false. Diamonds are doubtless sometimes made by cutting a slip of diamond, a very thin one, and attaching it to a base of glass or crystal. Then they are exposed to a great heat, until the connecting surface of the glass is fused to the diamond. But this process is seldom used, as the diamond employed requires to be of very fine quality.

"Rhinestones are made of glass," continued the dealer, "and so is every other good-looking sham diamond, no matter by what name it may be called. You can hardly ever get a sham diamond of crystal to show the brilliance of one cut from glass, and the latter wears best, too.

"Of other imitation stones, some very poor colored ones are made of glass, but the majority are 'doublets.' That is to say, a very thin slab of garnet, the cheapest real stone we sell, is affixed to a backing of colored glass by the fusing process. Then they resemble one stone, and when set no one but a trained expert could recognize the difference. The test of a file to the glass, when they are removed from the setting, reveals the sham at once, as the steel 'bites' on glass, but runs smoothly over true stones. A trained eye tells the difference between true and false stones when set by the greater luster of the former. Most imitation stones sold in this and other countries are manufactured in Bohemia, where the work is done at a very low price.

"Real stones of color are many of them of great value. Rubies, good and large, are very scarce, and more costly, weight for weight, than diamonds. Those of a poorer class are, however, much cheaper. Next to them come sapphires, which, when of good quality, are priced nearly as high as diamonds, though not so high as rubies. Small and imperfect stones are cheap enough. The same applies to emeralds. Large pearls are still very costly, if of fine color and regular shape. The best pearls are found only in the Indian seas. Attempts have been made to cultivate the pearl oyster in Italian waters, but with little success so far. There are also American pearls, coming from Texas and from Panama, but these are not very valuable, as they lack the luster of the others.

PATENT IMITATION PEARLS.

"The last time I was in Paris I came across a man who claimed to have a patent upon a new method of making imitation half pearls. Pearls, as you may know, are frequently cut in half for setting. He showed me some of his make, and it was really an excellent imitation. I ordered some direct from Bohemia, where they were made, and they turned out just as good as the sample. But how they are made is a secret which I can't tell you, because I do not know.

"There is no difficulty in imitating any of the precious stones except the opal. The changing, the ever-varying colors in that stone, as the light upon it changes, have hitherto proved more than a match for the most skillful copyist. But opals, notwithstanding their beauty, are in small demand, the belief in the superstition that they bring ill-luck is so prevalent. You may scarcely believe it, but there are a good many people in this very city who would not accept an opal to-day if you would make them a present of it. I fancy the belief has its birth in the fact that opals are so brittle and liable to fracture. More than one-half are broken in course of setting.

"The new stone, the moonstone, which is obtained in India, is rather popular now and has become cheaper lately." He produced a small tray of moonstones, with cameos cut in high relief on their faces. A luster that certainly did resemble moonlight gleamed from the interior of these curious crystaline bodies. On the tray lay another stone, cut with a similar cameo. But this was a dark coffee colored opaque stone, of insignificant appearance. The reporter picked it up and a strange glow of golden light, that seemed to shine from its very center, glittered from the various surfaces as it was turned around in the light.

"That," said the diamond merchant, "is tiger eye, a stone that has a history as curious as its appearance. Ten years ago it was unknown. It is found on South African farms and hillsides. At first it was only picked up in minute fragments and was cut in small carbuncles and ovals, but now it has been found to be quite plentiful in certain districts."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Ancient Fenians.

Karl Blind, in an essay in The Neue Freie Presse, denies that the ancient "Fenier" were Irishmen in the present sense of the word. "The old Irish Fenian heroes," he says, "as we see them in the poems which have come down to us in Celtic language are evidently no Celts or Celt-Ibernians. They are described as golden-haired, red-cheeked, blue-eyed and white-skinned. They drank beer out of drinking horns." The true "Fenians" were consequently Teutons.—Exchange.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

Morals of the French Theatre.

M. Victorien Sardou, who is now in his pleasant country house at Marly, is hard at work on a new spectacular piece for the Porte St. Martin. He says that it is a comedy of modern life with with scenes in the east, and can be witnessed by children without danger to their morals. In M. Sardou's opinion, the great drawback of the theatre nowadays is that it is impossible to take school girls there, and, if report be correct, he is now trying to change all that.—Chicago Times.

The Poisons of "Soda" Water.

Scientific men are in doubt whether it is the lead poison or the copper poison that is most injurious in the average glass of soda water. The chances are that the chemical "sirups" are more deadly than either, and possibly next in danger to the "soda" water itself.—Detroit Free Press.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY.

What It Is.

It is a superior brand of pure whiskey. Its chief merit being that it is distilled by a secret process discovered by us in 1860, whereby every trace of fusel oil and other injurious substances are eliminated. It is the only whiskey of the kind manufactured in the world and it is the only absolutely pure whiskey on the market. While as a whiskey and for every purpose to which a whiskey is put, either as a medicine or drink, it is unequalled by any other whiskey, it is, owing to its absolute purity especially fitted for medicinal purposes. Another peculiar feature of it is that it is the only whiskey that will stay on the stomach of invalids and debilitated persons, and combining, as it does, a food quality with that of a stimulant, it is the only whiskey that ought to be used in the treatment of the sick; and a still further feature that in whatever quantity it is consumed, there are no after effects from it such as are experienced from the use of other whiskies containing fusel oil and other poisons. Being a superior brand of pure whiskey distilled from the very best materials, it is of necessity an expensive one and by the demand created for it as such among consumers, dealers are virtually compelled to handle it, although at a profit to them of about one-fourth of what is usually made on other whiskies, such as many of them have the reputation of keeping. For this reason we would impress upon our friends the importance of demanding ours as the only pure whiskey, and we warn them, in view of the hundreds of analyses this whiskey has received at the hands of the most eminent chemists of this country and to which we openly submit at all times, that where any attempt is made by unscrupulous druggists to palm off an inferior and adulterated whisky, as being as good or as pure as ours, they are actuated solely by mercenary motives. We repeat that this is the only whiskey of the kind in the world. We are its discoverers and sole manufacturers and we challenge any one to produce a whiskey like it, either in purity or excellence. Another thing we would impress upon our friends is not to be deceived by other malt whiskies, as there are just as many grades of bad malt whiskies, equally as poisonous as other whiskies, and none of them are pure. It is under this guise that several unscrupulous manufacturers are trying to reap benefits from our name and prestige.

A QUESTION ABOUT
Brown's Iron Bitters
ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

Martin Olesen, the brother of the dead man, is in the city, and will take the body to his own home for burial. Olesen's real name is said to have been Gorseth, the other having been given him when he came to this country.

—Several car loads of piles and other timber for trestle work have been piled up near the south end of the railroad bridge. While one of the cars was being switched off late Saturday afternoon, a brakeman, Fred Eichel by name, had his hand caught between the bumpers. Three fingers were smashed so badly that Dr. James Mills found it necessary to amputate them.

—The former board of appraisal in the Evansville "cut off" right of way matter has been discharged by the court as all the cases to be considered in that instance have been settled. Judge Bennett has now appointed new sets, the one on farming lands being composed of Fenner Kimball, James Menzies and James Cleland, while the one on city property consists of A. P. Lovejoy, Volney Atwood and C. E. Smith.

—The Rock county W. C. T. U., desire to return thanks to those who so generously sent supplies of food and fruit to their lunch booth at the recent agricultural fair; as also to those who contributed to its success in so many other ways. It is the hope of the W. C. T. U., that all may reap a reward in the results of increased activity to promote sobriety and purity in our own county.

—The concerts to be given to-morrow and Wednesday evenings by the ladies of the Choral Union will be largely attended. Besides the large number of Janesville people who have engaged seats there will be excursions from several outside points and there is every prospect that Lappins hall will be crowded both nights. The harp solo by Mme. Chatterton Bohrer, is one of the many features that will make the entertainments attractive, it being looked forward to by the many who know of this lady's reputation.

—We have just received from the publisher a neat, new book, with the above title, containing plans and specifications for twenty five houses of all sizes, from two rooms up; also, engravings showing the appearance of houses built from the plans given. In addition, it has valuable information of permanent and practical value on subjects relative to building contracts, that cannot fail to be of value to those who intend to build, and it will be sent to any address on receipt of 25 cents, by J. S. Ogilvie & Co., the publishers, 31 Rose street, New York.

—The interior of Myers opera house is gradually assuming a different shape, but it will not be ready to open until some time in November. The stage has been lowered about six feet and the level of the orchestra seats will be three feet and a half below that. The gallery will be larger extending over almost half of the auditorium. The entrance will be on Bluff street, where a separate ticket office will be situated. The balcony, in which will be five tiers of seats will have stairs leading up to it on each side from the foyer. Instead of a straight flight of stairs from the Milwaukee street entrance there will be three bends with broad landings so that those entering step directly into the foyer. From here there will be several spacious entrances into the auditorium proper and passages leading to each of the four proscenium boxes.

—Beloit Free Press: As the condition of the business in the Probate court is such that the immediate appointment by the governor of a successor to the lamented Judge Prichard is almost a necessity, the names of several gentlemen are already mentioned for the judgeship, without disrespect to the memory of the late esteemed judge, and under the circumstances without unseemly haste. Among those so named, are Hon. J. W. Sale and M. M. Phelps, Esq., and perhaps others, of Janesville, and Hon. R. J. Burdge, and J. B. Dow, Esq., of Beloit. All of these gentlemen are undoubtedly well qualified for the position, and would soon have the business of this important court well in hand, and would administer its affairs in a manner satisfactory to the public. Mr. Sale is the republican nominee for state senator, and should he be appointed to the vacant judgeship, and should he accept, the county committee will be under the necessity of reconvening the senatorial convention to make a new nomination.

OBITUARY.

ANNIE SKELLY.

Death seems to take first of all the freshest and brightest flowers in all earth's garden for himself. This morning his summons came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skelly in the second ward and their little daughter, Annie Maud, only six years of age, closed her eyes in the eternal sleep. The little one was a remarkably bright and lovable child. Wherever she went she left a path of sunshine and her death will cause much sorrow. The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the house.

WILLIE V. HOLDEN.

There is sorrow in many hearts because of the death of the little son of Frederick and Della Holden, of the town of Janesville. The funeral which was held this afternoon at the home of Virgil Pope, near this city was quite largely attended as the little one had gained a warm place in many hearts.

BROWN.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown, of the first ward, have been called to mourn the death of their little boy baby 8 months old. He was attacked with cholera infantum yesterday morning and in spite of all that loving friends could do, death relieved him of suffering at three o'clock this morning. The stricken home will share the sympathy of a host of friends in this hour of keen bereavement. The funeral will be held at St. Patrick's church to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Child's Play.

The Recorder of Sunday morning, taking advantage of a blunder appearing in the Saturday evening's Gazette, endeavors to be exceedingly witty, if not very, very funny. At the same time the glass rattles in its own house in the following item, clipped from its Sunday morning editorial page:

"Miss Celia Parnell, mother of the great Irish agitator, took passage for Queenstown the 16th inst. Her age is seventy-two years."

BROWN.—"Did you go for a vacation this summer, Smith?"

SMITH.—"Oh yes."

BROWN.—"How did you manage your business affairs?"

SMITH.—"I took my advertisement out of the paper until I returned, so there wasn't any business to manage. Great scheme, eh?"—Harper's Bazar.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the thermometer indicated 48 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northwest wind. At 1 p. m. the register was 60 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with north west wind. For the corresponding hours last year the register was 63 and 80 degrees above zero. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 44 degrees above zero. Clear with northwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 68 degrees above zero. Clear, with north west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 58 and 83 degrees above zero.

J. H. GATELEY,

RESOLUTIONS

Of Esteem on the Death of Rev. G. W. Lawrence.

The prohibition club, of this city, forward the following resolutions for publication:—

To the President and Members of Janesville Prohibition Club:

The summons of the great Originator came and after a life of supreme usefulness, our gifted and loving brother, Rev. G. W. Lawrence, is no more on earth, having been released from his long suffering which he had endured with true christian fortitude and patience beloved by all. We look upon the memory of this good man as among the pure "attributes of the soul" and that the principles he advocated, touching prohibition, as a much needed reform year by year is for us to follow. By your request we submit,

Resolved, That we remember him as a good, and great man,—good because of his undinching adherence and fidelity to the solid foundation of reform—and great because he carried out the true principles that constitutes the citizen—the christian and the man.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Lawrence, the people at large have lost a friend, the pulpit a bright example of the true christian, a man of sound views and a generous heart, faithful to his Creator, his family and his fellow men, and that he won and carried with him to the last the mostoprofound esteem, beloved by all, and censured by none.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the dutiful sons of our deceased brother—Prof. Wm. Lawrence, of Chicago, and Edward E. Lawrence, of Kansas, and that we tender our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Egbert F. Gates, of Beloit, for their kindness and care during the last days of Brother Lawrence. Also that these resolutions be placed among the minutes of the Janesville Prohibition club, a copy for publication be furnished our city papers, and papers containing the same be forwarded to the family.

Ammonia in Baking Powders.

Scientific American.

Among the recent discoveries in science and chemistry, none is more important than the uses to which common ammonia can be properly put as a leavening agent, and which indicate that this familiar salt is hereafter to perform an active part in the preparation of our daily food.

The carbonate of ammonia is an exceedingly volatile substance. Place a small portion of it upon a knife, and hold over a flame, and it will almost immediately be entirely developed gas and pass off into the air. The gas thus formed is a simple composition of nitrogen and hydrogen. No residue is left from the ammonia. This gives it its superiority as a leavening power over soda and cream of tartar used alone, and has induced its use as a supplement to these articles. A small quantity of ammonia in the dough is effective in producing bread that will be lighter, sweeter and more wholesome than that risen by any other leavening agent. When it is acted upon by the heat of baking the leavening gas that raises the dough is liberated. In this act it uses itself up as it were; the ammonia is entirely diffused, leaving no trace or residum whatever. The light, fluffy, flaky appearance, so desirable in biscuits etc., and so sought after by professional cooks is said to be imparted to them only by the use of this agent.

The bakers and baking powder manufacturers producing the finest goods have been quick to avail themselves of this useful discovery, and the handsomest and best bread and cake are now largely risen by the aid of ammonia, combined of course with other leavening material.

Ammonia is one of the best known products of the laboratory. If, as seems to be justly claimed for it, the application of its properties to the purposes of cooking results in giving us lighter and more wholesome bread, biscuit and cake, it will prove a boon to dyspeptic humanity, and will speedily force itself into general use in the new field to which science has assigned it.

The Rev. Olin A. Curtis.

The following from the Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph, will interest thousands in this city: "Rev. Olin A. Curtis, D. D., will preach his farewell sermon at Summerfield church this evening, and on Tuesday will leave for the east, accompanied by his mother and little daughter Grace. He will remain in Boston for a time and then cross the ocean. He expects to remain abroad a year or two, where he will pursue his studies. He is already one of the most polished scholars in the state. When he returns it is more than likely it will not be to resume the pulpit. There has been some talk of his succeeding Dr. Raymond as president of Lawrence University. He is, however, more liable to be placed at the head of a great educational institution to be established on the Pacific coast. No matter what position he takes, he will fill it grandly, whether it be that of a bishop, president of a college or the occupant of a pulpit. Brighter minds, purer lives, or better hearts than we find in Dr. Curtis are indeed not overabundant. He will go from his church bearing with him the admiration of every member and every one who has heard him preach, and all will heartily unite in sincerely wishing him a safe passage to and from the old country and all of the success in life that he can desire."

Andrew's Pearl Baking Powder Premiums.

At the Inter State fair held in Madison, two of our ladies, Miss Maude E. McKinney and Mrs. A. Golling, carried off the two first premiums of $16 and $15—offered by C. E. Andrews & Co. for best cakes made from Pearl Baking Powder. We understand their exhibit was a magnificent display and feel honored that our ladies should be successful.

A Petrified "Boa Constrictor."

The interesting story now going the rounds of the press about the finding of a petrified boa constrictor of immense size near Piedmont, W. Va., is a hoax. It is true that a wonderful discovery has recently occurred near that place, but instead of its being a large snake it is a gigantic fern fossil of the carboniferous age—a sigillaria easily recognized by the seal-like impressions and unjointed stem. The seal impressions are probably what were taken for the scales of the snake. The fossil is slightly flattened, and is eighteen feet long and six inches in diameter.—Chicago Times.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

CUT IN PASSENGER RATES.

The St. Paul Road Will be Followed by all Competing Lines.

A general reduction in rates on all railroad lines in Wisconsin will go into effect on October 15 next, or as soon thereafter as the schedules can be arranged for the various lines. The inaugural step was taken by the St. Paul company, a dispatch having been received by the passenger department from General Manager Miller at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, instructing the officers to at once prepare the necessary schedules. From the fact that Manager Miller telegraphed from St. Paul, it is believed that the reduction is the result of the recent step taken by the Minnesota railroad commissioners to reduce railroad rates in that state to 3 cents a mile. This rate prevails in Illinois and Iowa, and with it in effect in Minnesota, Wisconsin would be the only state in which the lines of the St. Paul system are operated that the 4 cent rate is in force.

General Passenger Agent Barker, of the Wisconsin Central system, said that the 3-cent rate will go in effect on the Central lines as soon as the new schedule can be arranged. The Chicago & Northwestern officials say that although nothing has been heard from the manger in regard to the matter, it is known that a reduction will be made before Nov. 1. Other lines will make the same reduction.—Milwaukee Journal.

Albany.

—The prohibition mass meeting held at Albany last week cannot be set down as a failure, neither can it be credited as being a decided success. The first day's attendance was very slim, indeed. The second day a little better, owing, in part, to the popularity of candidates who were to orate on that day. It was noticeable, however, that the assembly was largely composed of ladies. And when we say ladies, we would reflect no discredit on this community who were attracted thither out of pure motives, and who are actuated by a sincere desire for the dissemination of temperance and reform, and the upbuilding of the home against the saloon. Noble workers, to them we say God speed. The means to a desired end which to the advocates of prohibition may seem to rest with the third party is a question for discussion now fairly before the American people—a question of right as against wrong. The morning of the third day opened unpropitious, rain setting in early, but the storm soon passed over and the sky cleared away by nine o'clock, giving evidence that all would be well for the closing day. Ex Governor St. John and T. C. Richmond arrived in town at 10 a. m., and registered at the Nichols' house. Mr. Richmond delivered an address in the forenoon which was pronounced as the greatest effort of his life. In the afternoon at 2 p. m., Governor St. John was escorted to the grounds by the Albany Cornet band. At this time the sky had again become clouded and rain was threatened. After the usual formalities, music by the Albany Glee club, the chairman, Mr. Warren Howard, in a few chosen words, introduced the speaker, Governor St. John, who in opening alluded to the threatening attitude of the weather, by saying that prohibitionists could not reasonably object to a dose of their own beverage." Notwithstanding a slight sprinkle the people, numbering between fifteen hundred and two thousand representatives of all parties held their ground until the close of the speech. St. John took his departure at 6:10 for pastures new. The corps of speakers occupying the time of the three day's assembly may be classed as above the average, and each and every one did good service to the cause, but the whole tone and tenor of their arguments go to show that no lasting good can be accomplished only through the third party movement and that the country has no further use for either of the old parties, especially for the republican party. The democrat party of course, would be serviceable for a time in killing off the republican party, after which their goose will be cooked. They predict that '92 will be millennium year of prohibition. Judging from results in Maine the home of Neal Dow, and the stumping ground of St. John, the much hoped for may lurk among the possibilities but it is not harbored among the probabilities of the year to come.

—Ed. Devereux, manager of the Albany cheese factory, sold two car loads of Albany cream cheese to eastern buyers on Thursday last. In addition to this, about one thousand boxes of cheese were sold to the local trade the past week. Purchasers from abroad unhesitatingly affirm that no better cheese is manufactured in the country. Notwithstanding the past season has been unusually warm, requiring constant care and attention, Mr. Devereux has succeeded in keeping up his standard of excellence for cheese making, while the many patrons who have given encouragement and support to the new enterprise in Albany will be amply rewarded in the adjustment of dividends. Late makes of cheese will certainly go higher within a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith contemplate taking a trip to Dakota this week. They will visit friends at Springfield and other points in the territory.
